May 8th meeting (change in date) The Himalaya Mine

Talk is from the 2013 Dallas Mineral Collecting Symposium
The Most Productive Tourmaline Mine in North America
by Bill Larson

The Himalaya mine is located in Mesa Grande, San Diego County, California. It was first discovered in 1898 and became one of the largest producers of specimens and gems through the 20th century. Bill goes over the long history of the mine and what it produced. Many with world class specimens are in museums throughout the world as well as in private collections.

Bill Larson started Pala International in 1967 and is president of the company. He purchased and operated several mines in California and in 1980 he leased the Himalaya mine and worked it until 1998.

Bill has a gem and mineral store in Fallbrook, California and deals in gems and minerals internationally as well as having an extraordinary mineral and gem collection.. He is one of the most knowledgeable persons of to talk about the Himalaya mine.

Business meeting topics:

- ⇒ Meeting date and time
- ⇒ Mineral Show

We will discuss the day of the monthly meeting and time to see if a change is beneficial and more discussion on our August show.
